RONALD SHAP: Figure Composition

Foreword

Self-expression is vital to human growth. Creative thinking represents the best way for most of us to experience the joys and satisfactions of our world.

If you are one who has always made the emotional, esthetic and cultural values of the arts a part of your life or if you are new among us and just beginning to enjoy the privileges of visual self-expression, we of the Toledo Federation of Art Societies salute you.

This year perhaps more than during all the years of our past history, the producing regional artists whose work is outlined in this catalogue together with the cultural minded citizens of our area and the Toledo Museum of Art have made this, the 47th Annual Exhibition of the Federation, a success.

This has been an especially eventful year for the Federation and for me. With your help, your devoted support, we have successfully completed our first city wide fund drive and because of it have been able to increase greatly our prize fund, pay our jurors as is customary throughout the United States, and increase our purchase fund. We have, for the first time, shown our Federation Lending Collection in its entirety outside of The Toledo Museum. By request we have placed prize winning creative objects by our area artists in the offices of many of Toledo's city officials—another first.

Lastly, and of great importance is the establishment of a citizens' organization, a cultural affiliate of the Federation of Art Societies, which has been named "Friends of Toledo Art". This organization has already provided trained personnel to take over the burden of sales and at the same time act as an advisory team for the prospective buyer during this, the 47th annual.

If you are already a member of Friends of Toledo Art, you have helped make this exhibition a reality. If you have not yet joined us we urge you to do so. Public support leads to realizations in art. This interplay is the constant excitement of creative self-expression.

This exhibition is for you. Enjoy it! The variety is great, the quality is high.

Joe Ann Cousino President
